Testimonial for Jason Ang Kian Lee

It was a pleasure having Jason Ang Kian Lee as an intern at Syslogic. During his time with us, he demonstrated strong technical competency and a proactive attitude in managing a wide range of IT infrastructure tasks.

He was responsible for, and successfully carried out, the configuration and maintenance of routers, switches, FortiGate firewalls, and wireless access points. He also handled server setups, including Domain Controllers and Hypervisor installations, along with the deployment of Synology NAS devices. Additionally, he efficiently managed server backups, DNS and email configurations, and played an active role in VLAN and SD-WAN implementations. He was also involved in setting up printers and ensuring proper network integration. Beyond his core responsibilities, he supported various ad hoc IT tasks — such as troubleshooting client network outages — demonstrating adaptability and a proactive approach under pressure.

One of his standout contributions was leading a critical NAS project where he ensured that NAS permissioning was securely implemented, restricting access strictly to authorized personnel. Furthermore, Jason showcased his versatility by configuring UPS systems, ensuring uninterrupted power supply and additional layers of system reliability.

Moreover, he demonstrated a solid understanding of firewall policy creation, VPN setups, and consistently executed system maintenance checks to safeguard the performance and security of our infrastructure. His ability to learn quickly, troubleshoot effectively, and handle multiple responsibilities made him an invaluable member of our team.

We are confident that Jason will be a great asset to any organization he joins, and we wish him all the best in his future endeavours.

Warmest Regards,
